«haiku flamenco», Description

A dance poem, specifically created for smaller, unconventional performance locations. In this creation Flamencos en route explores and transforms the poetic power of the haiku. Just like in other parts of the world, the traditional haiku, a type of Japanese short poem, has gained in popularity in the western world as well since the beginning of the 20th century. The short three-liners convey a very unique, very direct poetry. They express moments in time; often they represent images of nature. They reflect feelings and spiritual states and symbolize life's big themes in short and concise terms. In very contemporary form they grant us brief glimpses of truth. In that way, haiku poems resemble the art of flamenco with its spontaneous and original energy. The flamenco haiku is concentrated, coded dance poetry that captivates the audience through its intense presence. A broad variety of subjects are presented. The performance starts with rhythmic patterns strictly adhering to a 5-7-5-syllable format and ends in idiosyncratic transformations of music and dance into haikus by Uruguayan author Mario Benedetti.
